Russian Revolutionist Ends Career After Impassioned Speech.

DEATH IS DRAMATIC

After Proving by Father Gapon He Accepted No Money From Government Sechoff Terminates Life.

St. Petersburg, March 5.—The accused member of the Father Gapon labor organization, who committed suicide Sunday while the scandal involving charges of accepting money from the government, is being investigated bore the name of Sechoff. He enjoyed high standing among his fellow workmen, who are terribly depressed as a result of the scandal. It now develops Father Gapon was himself present at Sunday's session, when Sechoff killed himself. Father Gregori Peteroff had charged Sechoff with obtaining $2,450 from Father Gapon and with having accompanied a member of the secret police in the search for M. Baulushefsky, press agent, and counsellor of the Father Gapon movement, who fled with the organization's funds. During the progress of the meeting Sechoff made an impassioned speech in which he declared he could not support the infamy involved in the charge that the organization had been involved in a league with the government, nor the obliquely heaped upon himself as the head of the organization. Sechoff then called on Father Gapon to declare in the presence of his fellow workers whether Sechoff had received a cent from the government. Father Gapon arose and exonerated Sechoff, whereupon the latter said: "I will now give you supreme proof of my honesty," and, drawing a revolver, blew out his brains.

STARTLING STATEMENT.

Portland Paper Says Orchard Was Marked For Death.

Portland, Ore., March 5.—The Oregonian prints a dispatch from its Boise, Ida., correspondent which in substance says: "The inner circle of the Western Federation of Miners did not confine itself to murder of non-union miners and state officials, but tools who committed crimes were themselves victims of the inner circle. Orchard, one of the tools, was marked for destruction."

The correspondent says the confession of Steve Adams should show Orchard had been shadowed for a long time. It is not believed that Orchard knew he was under suspicion, but there is every reason to believe he stood in fear of death at the hands of those by whom he was employed.

The correspondent states that though a resident of Boise, still another victim of the disturbances connected with the Colorado mining trouble was added to the list—Thomas Wesley Smith, a boss miner—who disappeared from Telluride in 1902.

LIST CALLED FOR.

District Attorney Unable to Find Two Hundred Witnesses.

Chicago, March 5.—A call was made at the opening of the packers' case Monday upon District Attorney Morrison for the list of 200 witnesses turned over to the department of justice by Commissioner Garfield. District Attorney Morrison said he had been unable to find the list. Attorneys for packers protested there had been plenty of time, and unless the names were soon produced the purpose of their use would be defeated. The district attorney said he would continue the search with all possible diligence.

Attorney G. W. Brown took up the cross-examination of Special Agent Durant.

MOTION OVERRULED.

Defense In Green Cases Receives an Advance Decision.

Washington, March 5.—Justice Goudin, in criminal court No. 1, overruled the motion adopted by counsel for defense in the case of George Green of Binghamton, N. Y., on trial for conspiracy with sale of supplies to post-office department, to instruct the jury to acquit defendant, and defense proceeded with submission of its case.

Elections Ordered.

St. Petersburg, March 5.—An imperial ukase issued Monday ordered elections to the national assembly to begin April 8 in twenty-eight provinces of central Russia, on April 27 in seventeen other provinces of central Russia and Don regions and in two other provinces on May 8.

DEATH LIST IS FIFTY.

That Number of Persons Killed In Meridian Storm.

NO VANDALISM DONE

Damage Seems to Have Been Confined to One Locality, Losses Being Estimated at Over One Million Dollars.

Birmingham, Ala., March 5.—Before an army of determined men, says a special to the Age-Herald, from Meridian, Miss., the vast amount of wreckage is giving way. The Sabbath was a day of funerals. The death list is now officially placed at fifty.

Seldom if ever visited by a storm of cyclonic proportions, the merchants of Meridian had never protected themselves with storm or cyclone policies, so in the matter of adjustment of insurance agents will have little or no auditing beyond the fire losses. A million and a quarter dollars is now thought to be a conservative estimate of the damage done.

Colonel McCants, in command of the national guard, which now spreads out in cordon over the devastated district said that never in his years of military experience had he observed before the entire absence of vandalism and ghoully acts which usually follow on the heels of a like disaster. Not a single instance of this character has been reported to the colonel.

After leaving Meridian and entering Macon, a suburban town five miles distant, all trace of the storm seems to have disappeared. Little, if any, damage was reported from the country.

Claude Williams, an employee of the Meyer-Neville Hardware company, who is was thought at first had committed suicide after being imprisoned in the collapse of that building, is now believed to have died as a natural result. From the position of the body, lying near a display case, the consensus of opinion is that his throat was punctured on the jagged glass in such a manner as to produce instant death.

TAKEN TO AUSTIN.

Remains of Late Governor Hogg Arrive at Texas Capital.

Austin, March 5.—Under escort of a committee of the Houston Bar association and accompanied by the sorrowing children, the remains of the late James Stephen Hogg arrived here late Sunday afternoon. The body was taken at once to the governor's reception room at the state house, where they were guarded Sunday night by young men from the various state departments.

Friday night Governor Hogg attended a meeting of one of the Masonic lodges. Returning to the residence of Mr. Jones, he and his daughter had a conversation. He told her that he hoped to live several years, but when he was gone he wished a pecan tree planted at the head of his grave and a walnut tree at the foot. The nuts they bore he wished distributed among Texas farmers.

Negro Preachers Flogged.

Livingston, Tex., March 5.—As the result of the cutting of Tom Flournoy, a negro, at a church here, a crowd of negroes took the two preachers conducting the revival and severely whipped them with a buggy trace. They left town. Neal Evans, who entertained the preachers, fired his gun and in return had his house riddled with bullets.

Chickasaw Legislators Pleased.

A. AND M. COLLEGE NOTES.

Fertilizer Inspection—Success of Glee Club Tour—The Shirley Open.

Prof. S. E. Asbury, assistant state chemist, left the past week for a two or three weeks' tour of inspection under the state fertilizer law. He went from College to Houston and from there will proceed through East Texas as far north as Texarkana and as far west as Fort Worth and Dallas.

Very encouraging reports have been received from the Glee Club, which is now on its annual tour through the northern part of the state. The Club had crowded houses at Bryan, Calvert, Mexia and other points. They were at Sherman last night; Denison tonight and will finish the tour at Corsicana Wednesday night.

President and Mrs. H. H. Harrington, their son, Ross, and President Harrington's niece, Miss Genevieve Harrington of Waco, have just returned from a few day's visit to the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. They report a pleasant time, but enormous crowds and a woeful lack of accommodations.

Mr. G. C. Embry, instructor in English in the college, was called home a day or two ago by the serious illness of his brother.

Exercises were suspended Friday in honor of Texas Independence Day. Duck shooting, fishing, picnicking and baseball furnished the main lines of diversion.

President Harrington says that on the occasion of his recent visit to Washington he heard Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture state before the House Committee of Agriculture that by far the most tempting opportunities for the investment of capital were to be found in the south and southwest. He thought it hardly possible for a man to make a mistake by investing in agricultural lands. Secretary Wilson also asserted unequivocally that the department was prepared to eradicate, completely, the cattle tick if supplied with the necessary funds. On this latter point President Harrington does not feel quite as confident as the secretary.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College Club opened its new club house, the Shirley, on March 1. The building is a substantial two-story structure, is elegantly finished and furnished throughout and provided with all modern conveniences, as water, lights, sewer etc. While the carpenters were not quite through with the work and are now putting on the finishing touches, it was decided not to wait any longer, but to open up on the first of the month. The opening was a very successful one, every room in the building being taken and some twenty or twenty-five instructors and officers of the college applying for table board. Beside furnishing accommodations for roomers and relieving the crowded conditions at the mess hall, the new enterprise will add greatly to the pleasure of living at the college, and especially for the unmarried portion of the faculty.

COLORED TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The colored teachers of Brazos county met March 2 and 3 to hold their last session of the county institute for this year. The meeting was well attended by the teachers of Brazos and other counties.

The purpose of the institute has been to promote the work of education throughout the county.

By these meetings we have brought about a more perfect union among the teachers and we hope that such a union may remain. At the close of the meeting a motion was made, and carried, that the work of the president and secretary be approved by the entire institute.

After several suggestions on the advancement of the educational work, we adjourned for the school-year of 1905-6. J. Q. Adams, J. R. Jonsson, President Secretary.

FRED EMERSON BROOKS.

Fred Emerson Brooks will appear at the opera house Thursday evening, Feb. 15, under the auspices of the Bryan Lyceum. An advance notice says: "Mr. Brooks is a native of New York. He graduated from Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, and afterwards lived in San Francisco for seventeen years, returning then to New York."

"The inimitable wit and humor of his verse keeps the audience in a roar. He has a marvelous oratorical power, with a voice of thunder, which at his will he can make as soft as a summer zephyr. There is nothing within the range of the human voice which he does not seem equal to. There is no passion or feeling he does not portray, nor dialect, nor character, nor sound of animals about the farmyard he does not imitate."

SESSION ENDS.

McKendree Church Was Packed to Hear Miss Stone.

Nashville, March 5.—Sunday night the great quadrennial convention of student volunteers, which has been in session in Nashville for the past five days, closed with the benediction pronounced by Dr. James Robson of Edinburgh, Scotland. It was announced that the accredited delegates numbered 4,188, including missionary workers from twenty-six foreign fields. Seven hundred institutions were represented. Dr. Carl Fries of Stockholm, Sweden, delivered the farewell message to the convention and cable messages from co-workers in various parts of the world were read.

Sunday morning's session of the convention heard two sermons by Bishops McDowell and Thoburn of the M. E. church. This afternoon there were separate services for men and women, both largely attended, a number of distinguished speakers being heard. Robert E. Speer was the principal speaker at the Auditorium Sunday, and there were also brief statements from a number of volunteers of why they were going to the front. These volunteers are to make themselves known to the executive committee by their card, and their number will not be known for some time yet. The executive committee will, at a later date, announce the next meeting place of the convention.

Sunday night at McKendree church Miss Ellen M. Stone related her experiences as a captive held for ransom by bandits in the Macedonian mountains, and the crush to hear her was so great the services of the police were necessary to handle the crowd.

CLARK WINS.

Montana Senator Wins Patent to Several Thousand Acres.

Washington, March 5.—United States Senator Clark of Montana won the case against him in the supreme court of the United States, in which the government sought to have canceled patents to 11,400 acres of public lands in Montana, which were alleged to have been fraudulently secured. The opinion in the case was delivered by Justice Holmes and upheld the decision of the court of appeals from the Ninth circuit. Justices Harlan and Brown dissented.

CLEANING AWAY DEBRIS.

Thousands Worked All Sunday Night at Meridian, Miss.

Birmingham, Ala., March 5.—A special to the News from Meridian, Miss., says work of gangs of convicts both from the farm at Rankin and from city prisons, as well as thousands of citizens in clearing away the debris of the tornado continued all Sunday night without interruption, a cordon of soldiers being drawn around the places where the work was going on to prevent morbid crowds from coming too close to the debris and interfering with progress of operations. The main efforts of the majority of the workers were confined to the ruins of the Meyer-Neville Hardware company store, where several dead bodies had been taken out; Elmore restaurant, the scene of the most deaths in the heart of the city; Thornton transfer stables, where at least two bodies were recovered, and the long row of small eating stands that line Twenty-second avenue, in an endeavor to locate other bodies that might be contained therein and satisfy relatives of several missing people who feared their loved ones were lying beneath the debris.

J. W. Powell, who had been employed as a rural mail carrier, is believed to have perished while on the second floor of the Cameron restaurant. Ben Peterson, the cook at Elmore's restaurant, is among the missing, and it is feared his body is buried in the debris.

Offers of assistance and drafts for financial aid have been reaching the relief committee so rapidly that refusal is hardly possible. It is again announced money is not needed for relief purposes, the people of Meridian being amply able to care for themselves, and no appeal has been made for outside aid, nor will it be made. The relief committee has still further centralized work by a closer organization and redistricting of the stricken portion of the city into special sub-committees.

BESIDE HIS BELOVED.

Funeral of Late Governor Hogg Attended by Vast Concourse.

Austin, March 5.—The remains of the late James Stephen Hogg lay in state Monday surrounded by beautiful floral tributes from various cities. All departments were closed, the supreme court adjourned and many business houses closed their doors while the funeral services were in progress. Thousands of people looked for the last time upon the face of the distinguished dead, and few were the eyes that were not bedimmed with tears. The funeral services, which were simple, were held in the senate chamber, and were conducted by Revs. J. A. French, pastor of the First Baptist church, and S. H. Werlein, pastor of the Tenth Street Methodist Episcopal church, South. Both pastors paid touching tributes to the high character of the Lone Star's great son.

The procession to the city of the dead was one of the longest ever witnessed in this city. The honorary pallbearers were Governor Lanham, ex-Governor Sayres, Chief Justice Gaines, Associate Justice Williams, Judge Denman, Henry Marsh, Colonel T. M. Campbell, O. T. Holt, Colonel R. M. Wynne, Waller Baker, R. N. Stafford and R. M. Johnston.

DWELT ON GRAFT.

Judge Scott Resents the Idea That Texas is Honeycombed.

Waco, March 5.—In charging the grand jury Monday Judge Scott of the Fifty-fourth district court spoke for an hour on alleged graft in Texas, resending the idea that the state was honeycombed in that way. He said some newspapers were claiming graft existed everywhere, and said these papers were recreant to their trust if they did not expose the cases, as libel laws were so framed that papers could safely do this, and that they could not hide behind the claim that libel laws were too strict.

Caney, Kan., March 5.—The great gas well, five miles from here in Indian Territory, which has been burning since Feb. 23, when it was struck by lightning, continued its roaring Monday. An effort to drop an immense iron cap over the well was made, but the cap, weighing 3,000 pounds, turned to white heat when within twenty feet of the well.
